Ten Years Dreaming

Cindy Baker with Scott Smallwood

June 5 – August 2, 2025

Opening Reception: Friday June 6, 5 – 7 PM

Performance: Saturday June 7, beginning at 2PM

Cindy Baker has spent ten years dreaming and recording her dreams.

Even in sleep, Baker's activities centre around the artworld and are tinged with chagrin. In her artwork Dream Come True, she recalls dreaming of a plastic coin imprinted with the image of a cartoon duck she purchased on layaway from a commercial gallery: "I went to pick it up and pay for it, and it was $10. I wondered why I hadn't been able to pay that amount years ago but realized that we didn't have PayPal that long ago, and that I'd never carry that kind of cash."

Baker animates objects and scenarios first glimpsed in her dreams with sound, electronics and performance. Banal yet unworldly objects—ranging from a sink overflowing with ropes of jewels to an enormous inflatable duck-shaped chair—are accompanied by a ticker board spelling out the contents of Baker's dream journal and a continuous and evolving tapestry of voices created in collaboration with Scott Smallwood.

Sound, intangible and elusive, is an analogue for the exhibition's themes.

Things I've Forgotten is based on Baker's childhood memories of abduction and includes an endurance performance in which Baker pedals an adult-sized Big Wheel tricycle to power a speaker. Baker explains that pushing her body to its limits serves to exorcise long-buried trauma.

Things I've Forgotten requires the artist to continually spin her wheels to power the dream soundtrack, never advancing beyond trauma. Like Baker's use of the cutesy signifiers of childhood, dreams are absurd, disarming and unsettling. Who is more powerless or more free than the child or the dreamer?

An Accidental Forever

Theo Pelmus & Kristin Snowbird

August 15 – October 18, 2025

Opening Reception: Friday August 15, 5 – 7 PM

The artists will be joining us for Culture Days! Find event details on page 13.

The AGR is pleased to host a comprehensive overview of performance-based and digital artworks by married artists Theo Pelmus and Kristin Snowbird exploring themes of intimacy, land relationships, spirituality, and resilience during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Their work mixes signifiers of their backgrounds and roots of their shared artistic practice, fostering intercultural understanding. They use digital and ephemeral media to reinvent artistic traditions, revealing how traditional forms were once innovative and how we can reinvigorate cultural artefacts of the past through emerging technologies, for instance using artificial intelligence to proliferate voices speaking traditional Indigenous languages.

Primarily working in performance for film and video, the couple has created work that both underscores social harms and promotes healing. Their video The Kiss features the couple embracing on the Red River while wearing masks adorned with sharp quills and needles, symbolizing new rituals for understanding contemporary challenges. Snowbird, a former competitive fancy shawl and jingle dress dancer, performs an endurance piece integrating traditional healing dance elements on top of Garbage Hill.

Our 2025 Member's Show & Sale was a great success!

It wouldn't have been possible without the efforts of our whole community from our members who contributed artworks, volunteered, and visited-to all those who attended events, purchased work, and put out the word!

Every year we are blown away, not just by the quality and variety of artworks, but by all the positive feedback and enthusiasm of visitors.

In addition to the success of the Show & Sale, we also enjoyed a very busy and beautiful 2nd Annual Mother's Day Tea fundraiser! After selling enough tickets for one sitting last year, this year we nearly sold out two sittings!

Once again, our volunteers and patrons ensured our success-and we couldn't be happier.

The ongoing support of our community continues to sustain us and motivate us to continue forward.

*Art From the Heart

June 4 – July 2, 2025

Heartland Artists' Guild was established in 1980 by 16 local artists as the Regina North Artists Guild and in 2010 changed to Heartland Artists Guild as a non-profit.

They formed to meet the needs of artists wanting an avenue to encourage and foster their talents and it continues to do so. With a community minded base the artists, both new and experienced, provide wonderful opportunities to demonstrate their skills and talents to each other and to the public.

There is always an atmosphere that promotes and encourages artists to learn and develop their skills with workshops, community events and shows. The Guild welcomes new members to share the experience. Guild info page 20.

Outside the Box Hallway Nicolette Vanderschaaf Birds of Prayer

August 5 – 28, 2025

Nicolette is an immersive of prairie landscapes, rarely travelling without her bulky camera to capture the diminishing winged fauna hidden in the last pockets of untrammelled native ecosystems. Birds of Prayer is her latest series based on the images she's captured—with elements of classic iconography, imparting the sacred and ephemeral nature of the holy to the natural world. The symbolism of the saintly, the prerequisite of miracle, and the veneration of Holy works elevate the overlooked and implore respect and reverence for these threatened species.

GLASS DISPLAY CASE

The glass display case is a locked cabinet measuring 52"h x 45"w x 21"d suitable for small scale 2D & 3D artwork, including jewellery, ceramics, small sculpture, and small framed paintings and drawings.

Artist fees are not paid for these non-curated exhibitions, instead the AGR facilitates sales on behalf of artists for a 30% commission, for which the artist receives a charitable donation receipt for use on their tax return.

Changes to the Board of Directors:

Farewell to Hoorieh Rajabzadeh

While we will certainly miss Hoorieh's presence on the board at the AGR, she has left us for a good reason—and she hasn't gone far! Hoorieh recently got the position of Community Consultant with the City of Regina! So you'll continue to see her around the Neil Balkwill Civic Arts Centre. Be sure to congratulate her on the new position!

Welcome Karlie King!

After Hoorieh's departure, we had a space on the Board that we couldn't wait until the AGM to fill. Graciously, Karlie King stepped in to fill that gap! You may know Karlie (or her work) from the Members' Show & Sale, or recent curated exhibition, Care, which featured her touchable and tactile ceramic heart sculptures. Karlie has been an active artist in the Regina and area clay scene and beyond for many years, and we're lucky to have her!

Because of the changes in members among the board, former Member At Large, Mike Josza, has stepped into the Vice Chair position, and Karlie King has entered as a Member at Large.

We currently have enough board members to meet corum, but we will be seeking new board members via nominations for the AGM in September. If you think you, or someone you know would make a good fit—get in touch!

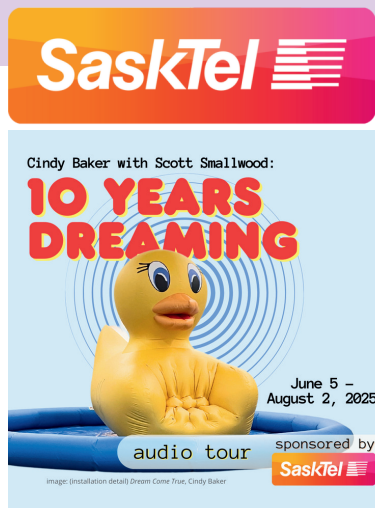

GALLERY NEWS

THANK YOU SaskTel!

One of the AGR's foundational accessibility measures has been recording audio tours for all of our curated exhibitions.

These audio tours are entirely funded by SaskTel, who just renewed their sponsorship.

We look forward to continuing this vital resource, as well as inviting artists to add their voice to the tours!

Find audio tours by scanning the QR in the gallery, or on our website soon after an exhibition opens by visiting: www.artgalleryofregina.ca/audiotourcurrentexhibition

2024–2025 Annual General Meeting:

All members are encouraged to join us for our Annual General meeting for fiscal year 2024 - 2025, which will occur in September (exact date TBD). Printed annual reports, and light refreshments will be provided to attendees. The AGM will also be streamed live.

The General Meeting is a reporting process for the gallery to share results with all members and stakeholders of the gallery. It is also when members can exercise their voting rights by participating in the democratic processes of our non-profit organization.

Included in this year's meeting will be the opportunity for Board nominations, and voting on incoming board members.

If you would like to nominate yourself, or someone else for the AGR Board, or would like more information, please get in touch: info@artgalleryofregina.ca
